v.

CHERYL ROSE,
ROBERT BATY,
CLARA BALCACER-COLON, and DAVIAN BREEDLOVE,

DEFENDANTS.

LETTER TO THE COURT

It has come to my attention that a LEE KENWORTHY has filed a COMPLAINT in your Court against me and certain other individuals. Your records show it was filed on June 25, 2019 and entered on June 27, 2019.

This letter is to advise you that it is my opinion, after covering the Lee Kenworthy story for over a year, that he has a long history of mental illness, treated and untreated, and is not mentally competent to properly prosecute any such lawsuit pro se.

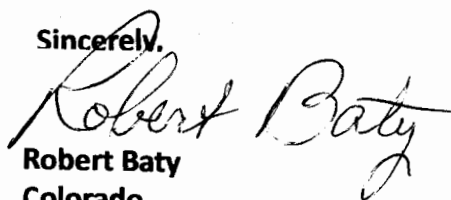

As your Court has an extensive record of Lee Kenworthy's legal antics, with and without representation, as well as the present COMPLAINT, you should be able to review the record and make your own determination that his pro se filings bear evidence of mental illness and incompetence.

I would recommend you take action to try and resolve that issue before allowing Lee Kenworthy to further advance his case.

Otherwise, on the merits, his case has none and is clearly frivolous, being, in essence, an attempted strategic lawsuit against public participation against people who have disagreed with him and his antics.

I will look forward to your further action in this case.

Sincerely,

 June 28, 2019
